

NON-USE POLICY

Just like any rental, university housing, or food plan agreement, a homestay costs $31.00 per night from move-in day to move-out day – whether or not the homestay guest is sleeping or eating in the homestay. When a guest spends nights away from the homestay, the homestay fee must be paid according to schedule. Likewise, when guests choose not to eat their meals in the homestay, the homestay fee must be paid according to schedule. This policy is in effect throughout vacation periods, emergency departures, summer months, and during religious holidays.

Guests wishing not to pay for nights not spent in the homestay must move out before the first day of absence. Homestays cannot be reserved for guests who are not paying the homestay fee according to schedule. Right at Home Homestay reserves the right to pack and store the belongings of an absent homestay guest who owes a late homestay fee and to give the room to another guest. When the homestay fee has been paid and, if necessary, the key has been returned, the belongings will be returned.

All guests who have moved out of a homestay prior to an absence are welcome to return to the Right at Home Homestay program by applying through the website and paying the Placement Fee. Requests for a specific homestay will be honored, subject to availability.

I UNDERSTAND AND AGREE TO ABIDE BY THE NON-USE POLICY DESCRIBED ABOVE.
